3. (C) GLOSSARY OF TERMS AND DEFINITIONS

a. Categories of Units:

- (1) Maneuver Units: Infantry, armor, reconnaissance, sniper, sapper/swimmer (UDT) and security (guard) elements (excluding guerrilla units) down to platoons subordinate to districts.
- (2) Combat Support Units: Fire support, air defense, and technical service units organized at battalion level and above, and not classified under administrative service. Separate fire support and air defense companies are classed as combat support.
- (3) Administrative Service Units: Military personnel in COSVN, military region, military subregion, front, province, and district staffs, and rear service technical units of all types directly subordinate to those headquarters.
- (4) Guerrillas: Guerrillas are fighting forces, usually organized into platoons and squads, directly subordinate to the party apparatus at village and hamlet levels. Although they form a full-time part of the enemy's offensive threat, the amount of time devoted to guerrilla duties by the individual guerrilla varies. At times guerrillas operate outside their home villages and hamlets, often with local and main force units. Typical missions include limited offensive operations, harassment, sabotage, propaganda, protection of party committees, collection of taxes, and also security and reconnaissance for main and local force units.

b. Classification of Units:

- (1) North Vietnamese Army (NVA) Units: A unit formed, trained and designated by North Vietnam as an NVA unit and composed completely or primarily of North Vietnamese. Depending upon their subordination, these units may be categorized as Local Force or Main Force.
- (2) Viet Cong (VC) Units: A unit formed and trained in South Vietnam (or in some instances Cambodia and Laos), whose original personnel composition consisted primarily of people residing in South Vietnam. Depending upon their subordination, these units may be categorized as guerrilla, Local Force, or Main Force.
- (3) Main Force (MF) Units: Those VC or NVA military units which are directly subordinate to Central Office South Vietnam (COSVN), a Viet Cong military region, military subregion or front.
- (4) Local Force (LF) Units: Those VC or NVA military units which are directly subordinate to province and district party committees and normally operate within the territorial jurisdiction of their respective control headquarters.

NOTE: At times VC units and individual South Vietnamese replacements appear in units predominately NVA at the command level. At times NVA units and individual NVA replacements also appear in units predominately VC at the command level.

c. Viet Cong Infrastructure: The Viet Cong infrastructure is defined as the political and administrative organization through which the Viet Cong control or seek to control the South Vietnamese people. It embodies the party (People's Revolutionary Party) control structure, which includes a command and administrative apparatus (Central Office South Vietnam) at the national level, and the leadership and administration of a parallel front organization (National Front for the Liberation of South Vietnam), both of which extend from the national through the hamlet level.

d. STRENGTH:

- (1) Combat Strength: The sum of maneuver and combat support unit strengths.
- (2) Administrative Service Strength: The sum of the strengths listed under this designation.
- (3) Guerrilla Strength: The sum of the strengths listed under this designation.
- (4) Total Strength: The sum of (1) through (3) above.
- (5) Current Strength: A current estimate of the strength of an enemy unit based upon the best information available. This estimate may be based upon limited information.
- (6) Retroactive Strength: A retroactive estimate of enemy unit strength based upon an accumulation of firm documentary evidence. Retroactive strength is computed from the date a unit was activated or entered RVN for the first time.

e. Major Unit/Headquarters Definitions:

- (1) Light Infantry Divisions: Light Infantry Divisions (LID) are VC and NVA divisional formations tailored specifically for operations in South Vietnam. These divisions are highly foot-mobile and are flexible in force structure, organization and strength. Normally these light infantry divisions are composed of two to four infantry regiments and a varying number of technical and fire support elements. They lack wheeled transport and the type of artillery normally associated with NVA conventional divisions. (All VC and NVA divisions accepted in Order of Battle to date are light infantry divisions.)
- (2) Front Headquarters: A Front Headquarters is a military organization designed to perform tactical and administrative functions and to control divergent units in a specific area. A front is intentionally unstable; its military force composition changes as operational requirements dictate, and no permanency is attached to its formation, although it may provide the framework for a permanent military unit. A Viet Cong Front or North Vietnamese Army Front in South Vietnam normally consists of two or more regimental units; however, it can consist of a few small units, a number of regiments exceeding the accepted composition of a division, or several divisions.

f. Criteria for Order of Battle Acceptance:

- (1) Confirmed Unit: A confirmed unit is one whose designation is known, subordination has been established and the location determined from a minimum of two reports from VC/NVA PWs or returnees (Hoi Chanh), from the unit, or captured documents (any combination).
- (2) Probable Unit: A probable unit is one whose designation is known, subordination has been established, and location determined from one VC/NVA PW or returnee (Hoi Chanh) from the unit, or captured document, when supported by information from other sources which can be evaluated as probably true.
- (3) Possible Unit: A possible unit is accepted as such where credible reports from different sources indicate that the unit exists, even though no VC/NVA PWs or returnees (Hoi Chanh) from the unit or captured documents are available to verify the reports.

g. Border Area: An area either in or north of the DMZ or contiguous to RVN in Laos or Cambodia from which the enemy may operate or to which they may withdraw for the purpose of refuge or reconsolidation.

h. Unit Designation:

- (1) Designation: The literal or digital title conferred on a military unit to distinguish it from others of its category, classification or echelon.
- (2) Cover Designation: A designation used by the unit to conceal its true identity.
- (3) Honorific Title: A unit designation, usually literal, used for commemorative or morale purposes by the Viet Cong or NVA.

i. Accepted Infiltration: Those NVA personnel, groups, and units, which have entered RVN and are carried either in the confirmed or probable categories.

- (1) Confirmed: A confirmed infiltration unit/group is one which is accepted on the basis of information provided by a minimum of two PWs or returnees (Hoi Chanh) from the unit/group, or two captured documents.
- (2) Probable: A probable infiltration unit/group is one which is accepted on the basis of information provided by one PW or returnee(Hoi Chanh) from the unit/group, or a captured document, supported by information from other sources which can be evaluated as probably true.

UNCLASSIFIED

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~
UNCLASSIFIED

- j. Possible Infiltration: A possible infiltration unit/group is one which may be in RVN on the basis of information which can be evaluated as possibly true even though no PW, returnee (Hoi Chanh), or document verifies the report.

NOTE: In addition to the infiltrators which fall into the above infiltration categories, other units/groups have been mentioned in agent reports, captured documents, interrogation reports and sightings by friendly forces, but the information is insufficient to warrant inclusion of these units/groups in any of the above categories.

- k. Month of Infiltration: The month established as the date an infiltration unit/group crosses the international border into RVN for the first time.

(1) Criteria for the retention or deletion of a unit in Order of Battle holdings:

- (1). Validity of information supporting a unit's acceptance.
- (2). Activity which can be attributed to the unit.
- (3). Positive evidence that the unit has dissolved or amalgamated with other units.

m. Criteria for the acceptance and retention of border area units in Order of Battle holdings:

- (1) The unit has entered RVN.
- (2) The unit is still located in the border area or has elements remaining in RVN.
- (3) The unit constitutes a direct threat to friendly forces in RVN.
- (4) Available evidence indicates that the unit's mission is to conduct operations against friendly forces in RVN.

4. (U) Use of Asterisks: An asterisk to the left of a unit name in part IV indicates that the unit is a border area unit. The asterisks in the Guerrilla column in Part II, Section 1 are for ADP purposes only.

5. (C) VC Political Organizations: Numerous VC political organizations are carried in this summary. These have been included so that complete subordination can be established to facilitate data processing.
